Dever Held Responsible For Brutality of "Boss" Crowe Thugs by Union Committee

Charging Mayor William E. Dever, democrat, with responsibility of the brutality of the special police from the office of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, republican, in brutally assaulting unionists involved in the dress makers' strike, a committee of four from the Chicago Federation of Labor, headed by President John Fitzpatrick, informed the mayor this morning that there was a speedy change for the better in the attitude of the police toward the strikers, the organized workers of Chicago would hold him to a strict accountability.

JUDGE ISSUES LABOR GAGS ON DEMAND

Bosses Have Friend in Denis Sullivan

"Injunction King" Denis Sullivan doesn't want any more circuit judge taking to interfere with his business of taking a pole at union labor by issuing injunctions. That was revealed yesterday when Judge Sullivan, who is robed in all the minor details of the law, court judge issued an injunction against the Joint Board of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union on behalf of the Franchising Dress company in spite of the fact that they already have an injunction. The old injunction was issued several months ago by the circuit court while the union was trying to organize the workers in the Franchising Dress company.

Peter Sieman, attorney for the union, pointed out to the court that there was already an injunction all most exactly duplicating the one being applied for issued for the Franchising company. "If the court please, there is already an injunction which this complaint has taken out against exactly the same people. There is no reason in the world for having two injunctions of the same very irregular," he said.

Sullivan admitted that there might be something in the argument of Sieman but he signed on the dotted line and on a motion by Sieman to dissolve the injunction set it on the contested motion calendar. It may be weeks before it will be possible for the union thru its lawyers to tell the union's side of the story.

Weiss, Clothing Boss, Warns Chicago Citizen to Keep Off Streets

Thomas Holland, Labor Manager for the clothing firm of H. Weiss, and Marx and editor of a University magazine has been in the streets for the legitimate purpose of walking on the streets of Chicago. Arthur Weiss, clothing manufacturer at 315 West Adams, on Wednesday evening while in the vicinity of that street's establishment by an officer from state's attorney Crowe's office and held in the lobby of the Weiss factory until the patrol wagon took him to the South Clark Street station. The charge against him was dismissed the following morning.

Mr. Holland being a man with definite human sympathies is interested in the progress of the strike of the ladies' garment workers. On Wednesday evening while sauntering in the vicinity of Market and Adams Street he was approached by Mr. Arthur Weiss of the dress making firm who tried to convince him that the workers were in the wrong. Mr. Holland just as strenuously argued in behalf of the workers' right for a decent wage and proper working conditions. This infuriated the clothing magnate so he violently assailed Mr. Holland for holding such views and threatened to have him arrested if he kept on the streets. "I will see that you are kept off the streets," he said.

Mr. Holland now echoes the DAILY WORKER query "Who owns the streets?"

Suspected Congressmen Loudly Proclaim Innocence of Bribery

WASHINGTON, (Special to The Daily Worker) — Harassed by knowledge that their names were being bandied about in the halls of Congress in sensational gossip, Representatives Frederick Zihlman, Maryland, and John Langley, Kentucky, today came forward with statements that they were innocent of the charges of bribery laid before a Chicago grand jury.

Both Zihlman and Langley demanded specific charges, saying they were prepared to answer in detail. The voluntary statements were drawn out of a resolution calling on the Department of Justice to give the House the names of the two congressmen involved in the Chicago grand jury charges and the names of the witnesses against them.

Kansas Miners' Convention By Unanimous Vote Invites Howat and Comrades to Attend Sessions

By TOM TIPPETT
PITTSBURGH, (Special Correspondent of the Federal Press) — Kansas officials and any other coal diggers to attend the convention of District 14, United Mine Workers, in session here, was unanimously voted as the first order of business the day following the president's election. The delegates then voted to prevent the chairman from adjourning the convention without a majority vote of the delegates.

Another proposition that kept the troubled workers churning was a motion that "no one but a delegate be permitted to speak on the floor unless given that right by a majority vote of the house." This was openly aimed at the five international representatives who are attending the convention, only one of whom is a delegate. An unopposed amendment was offered to permit any one attacked the right to reply.

Resolutions calling for old age pensions and a demand on the Kansas governor to force coal operators to abide by state mining laws were passed. One resolution unique in the proceedings was one that called for a "strictly open shop basis."

It uncovered the old Lewis-Hoover feud that will be long in healing. There are approximately 4,000 non-union coal miners in Kansas. All formerly belonged to the 100% union of Howat days. They were expelled by the international in the revocation of local unions that favored the industrial coal strike when Howat went to jail. Why these men are not in the union and how to reclaim them are unsolved questions. The $1 fee has been dropped by the present district administration—by agreement with the international.

The coal operators have taken advantage and forced down wages in the non-union fields. That threatens the organized standard and injures the unorganized men themselves. Elements of pride and revenge hamper the solution.

Ludendorf Treason Trial Nearly Killed by Lawyer Squabble

MUNICH, March 7.—Trial of General Ludendorf, Adolf Hitler's former ally for treason was resumed today, after Defense Attorney Kohl had apologized for the intemperance which the prosecutor dramatically broke off the hearing on Thursday.

The judge warned that a repetition of the offense might endanger the defense and said he desired the cause continued without unpleasantness.

A minor witness was examined. Former Bavarian Dictator Von Kahr was ready to go on the stand.

FINNISH SECTION OF WORKERS PARTY VOTES AID TO DAILY WORKER

The Finnish Section of the Workers Party, in convention assembled in Imperial Hall, Chicago, unanimously passed a resolution commending the DAILY WORKER on its rapid growth and the establishment of its own printing press and pledging the continued support of the Finnish Communists to the first Communist daily in the English language.

The resolution signed by F. Burman and George Halonen reads: "The Convention of the Finnish Section of the Workers Party commends the DAILY WORKER on its rapid growth and the establishment of its own printing press, so rapidly that it is already able to move into its own home and establish its own printing press."

The Finnish Section of the Workers Party will continue to give its moral and financial help to the English working class daily, a powerful weapon for the American laboring class.

On behalf of the convention: Fable Herman and George Halonen.

Burns Stool Tries to Bribe Burns

(Special to The Daily Worker) NEW YORK, March 7.—A federal grand jury today returned indictments charging conspiracy to bribe against Gaston B. Means, Elmer W. Arncliffe, his secretary, and Thomas F. Gallagher, a New York attorney, alleged an attempt to bribe Attorney General Daugherty and Col. William Hayward, United States district attorney, with the so-called "Glass Casket Combing Fund."

Means' name has been mentioned several times in connection with the senate investigation into oil leases in Washington. He formerly was agent of the department of justice.

Prisoners convicted in connection with the Glass Casket fund informed officials they raised $65,000 when they first began the action, but lost it against them and delivered the money to Means, Arncliffe and Gallagher. The action could be prevented.

Late, however, they were indicted and convicted of fraudulent stock sales and started action to get their $65,000 back.

NEW TESTIMONY HITS THE REPUBLICAN SENATE WHIP; SMEAR DAUGHERTY AGAIN

WASHINGTON, (Special to The Daily Worker) — Closing the way for a new climax of its investigation—the testimony of Edward B. McLean—the Senate Oil Committee today brought out additional disclosures, involving the names of Senator Curtis, republican whip of the senate, and Attorney General Daugherty.

McLean is to be called next Tuesday.

As these things developed, Daugherty returned from Florida, apparently unmoved by renewed rumors of his forced resignation and took up preparation of his defense before a senate investigating committee next week.

Senator Curtis was identified by Mrs. E. Bennett, editor of the Washington Post, McLean's newspaper, as "The Principal" named in a paragraph from Bennett in Washington to McLean at Palm Beach, whose identity had been speculated about for days.

Later Curtis authorized a statement that he "absolutely and flatly repudiated" portions of Bennett's testimony.

After Senator Curtis issued his statement, Senator Walsh said he would read the statement to the committee tomorrow to clear up discrepancies between Bennett's testimony and Curtis'.

Curtis wants to go on Stand.
Senator Curtis said he would like to go before the committee tomorrow to make his statement under oath. He said he never anything that passed between Mr. Bennett and myself that would make it possible to refer to me as the principal or to designate me in any other way than by my own name, Curtis said.

Curtis' statement said he first saw Bennett early in January and then again when Senator Norris attacked McLean in the senate. Curtis made only one attack upon McLean and that was on Jan. 20. A message that Bennett sent referring to "the principal" was dated Jan. 23.

Bennett said he saw Curtis the day before he sent the telegram. Bennett also identified an attorney General Harry Daugherty, stating that he saw Daugherty regarding some phase of the oil matter and that Daugherty sent him a telegram on Jan. 20, to which Daugherty and not McLean was the real target of the investigation.

McLean on Stand Tuesday.
After questioning Bennett, Senator Curtis said he would read the committee, announced he would try to clear up all testimony quickly and put McLean on the witness stand Tuesday.

The committee also decided to take up tomorrow in executive session the testimony of Samuel Knight, California attorney, to sue for return of sections 16 and 36 of the California reserves, now held by the Standard Oil company.

Talk With Cal.
After the cabinet meeting Daugherty remained with President Coolidge for a few minutes.

When he came out, he was asked if the situation had changed. "How do I know?" he responded. "I haven't seen anybody."

Daugherty went down the White House to his office at the department of justice.

Boss: Is Indicted 3 German Workers Die; 20,000 Locked Out in Antin Fight

MAYENCE, March 7.—Three workers were killed and 28 wounded in fighting with police at the Badische anilin works at Ludwigshafen today. Fifty police were wounded. Serious trouble is feared.

One worker was killed yesterday, and twenty wounded when the factory closed its doors, locking out 20 men.

It is likely that the strike will be thoroughly analyzed and told, in its entirety, in our special issue.

Day in and day out it is growing more evident that the Teapot Dumps have been having secret deals with the owners of the oil industry. The big interests are about to renege their energetic efforts to stifle the Teapot Dumps.

The Teapot Special will be a classic achievement in supplying the workers with the facts which they have been needing for the betterment of the government. If you want the truth about one of the blackest holes of the government, get the Teapot Special. BANKRUPTCY IMPENDING AS FRANC DROPS

Poincare Wildly Clutches At Currency Inflation

(Special to The Daily Worker) LONDON, March 7.—Charging the Banque de France with "centering upon a policy of currency inflation," the Manchester Guardian today declares a solution of the reparations problem is the only means to save the French franc from ultimate dissolution.

The franc opened at an unprecedented low of 109.85 to the pound sterling, approximately 3.90 cents.

Opening at 25.40 to the dollar, the franc was at the unprecedented low of 25.80 to the dollar.

Premier Poincare announced he would explain in the chamber the fall of the franc and the reasons for its recent circulation of Banque France notes.

Apparently obeying instructions from the government, the French newspapers refrained today from commenting on the latest record of the franc to unprecedented low levels.

Opening at 25.40 to the dollar, the franc was at the unprecedented low of 25.80 to the dollar.

Premier Poincare attributed the financial situation to hesitancy of the Senate in approving his program of fiscal reform.

The Echo de Paris says the premier sent a note to the Senate committee which is considering the financial measures proposed by the government, saying:

"France's enemies have placed their hopes in the Senate's hostility. Therefore I will not permit obstruction to the government's program in any form."

Senator Berneger, however, insists the crisis is due to treasury shortage. The Banque de France issued 8,000,000,000 in bank notes since the first of the year.

"Moreover," says the Senator, "the bank's advances to the state have reached $2,000,000,000. The legal limit is 23,000,000,000."

The bank's nearly reached the roof. That's the brutal fact. It's useless trying to conceal it.

Coolidge and "The Teapot Special"

BROOKHART HAS GOODSON DAUGHTERY

Sensations Coming Monday; Harry Sees Cal.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Unhaken in his determination not to quit office under fire Attorney General Daugherty came back to Washington today to face renewed demands for his resignation and to plan his defense before the Senate Committee which next week will begin investigating him.

It was reported, though without verification from any official source, that the president would ask Daugherty's withdrawal from the cabinet.

Sensational Evidence. Plans of the senate committee investigating Daugherty include: 1. Decision to open hearings on Monday or Tuesday with some sensational evidence instead of the federal trial commission which was originally planned.

2. Issuance of a dozen subpoenas, returnable Monday for persons whose identity the committee hopes in respect secrecy.

3. Announcement that Daugherty would be called to the stand early in the investigation to explain evidence with which he will be confronted.

Brookhart Got It. The switch in the committee's plans for opening the hearings with the federal trial commission followed a secret conference between Senator Brookhart, Iowa, chairman of the committee, and someone vaguely identified as "in or formerly connected with the committee." Brookhart admitted "department" of a "very sensational nature" had been put in his hands. He immediately transmitted it to Senator Wheeler, Montana, committee prosecutor, who refused to discuss it.

Senator Wheeler today announced appointment of A. McHenry of Butte, Mont., as the legal assistant who the committee authorized him to employ to aid in shifting and arranging evidence for presentation to the committee. McHenry has been an attorney in Butte for 20 years and has been prominent in democratic politics in Montana.

Cal's Pipeline Tips Him Off to Senate Evidence: McLean Told Not to Worry In 'Count's' Wires

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Sensational disclosure that President-elect McLean, friendly telegram to Edward B. McLean during the oil scandal probe left the White House today the center of excited interest as the Senate Committee continued perusal of telegrams and examination of witnesses.

Representations of the committee chairman, Senator Wheeler, thru the committee itself, the senate and up and down the rank and file of both old parties as charges of partisanship were flung back and forth.

"Look" To President. The Taft Dome committee was plunged into discussion over indications President Coolidge had been "tipped off" in advance about messages concerning him.

Investigators were so aroused they threatened to carry the matter to the floor of the Senate, or summon witnesses to ascertain if evidence of "leak" in the committee proved true.

The committee knows that senators outside the investigating committee received information that was transpired in the executive session of the committee Wednesday. They believe the senators went to Mr. Coolidge and informed him that his name had been found on telegrams to McLean, so that he could prepare statements regarding his motives for the telegrams.

Ira E. Bennett, editorial writer of the Washington Post, is expected to testify concerning the matter, which he was the author.

A half dozen more telegrams which may furnish the key to the case are to be read into the record.

The Palm Beach Telegrams. Two new code telegrams to McLean at Palm Beach from a mysterious source which he was to read into the record.

Other code telegrams were signed himself "Count" were deciphered for the committee today by J. F. Friedman, army code expert.

BURNS TIPS HIS STOOLO PIGEONS 'FINEST' IN WORLD

No Body of Men Like Them, He Says

By LAURENCE TODD (Staff Correspondent of The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—"The finest body of men in the world," Burns, blustering, sneering in turn, with the arrogant assurance of a plantation owner, said today of a black snake with, Detective Burns, director of investigations, department of justice, and Senator Walsh of Montana across the table of the senate committee on public lands and declared that he would have been an investigator of the scandal if anyone had asked him.

Of the detective force under his command in the bureau, he loudly announced that they were "the finest, cleanest investigating organization in the world—equal to any task, and clean men."

His Agents' Perjury. He seemed to amplify his statement, and so unconvicted that anybody present believed him, that Senator Dill of Washington felt compelled to ask him whether he believed the testimony of his own agents, McLean, owner of the Washington Post, which amounted to a confession that McLean had committed perjury in an attempt to mislead the senate committee on the oil scandal.

John Henrichson Shakes Wicked Subscription List, as Big Contest Approaches Last Lap

Averaging more than 100 points a week, John Henrichson of the Englewood English Branch is leading all other contestants in the "1000 New Subscribers by March 10th" campaign, with a point score of 855 at the close of the third week.

Henrichson, not in the least worried by the entry of the "Mystery Contestant," is plugging along to reach 800 points when the contest closes. If there is anyone in Chicago who can point the mark of the contest, it is Henrichson. He will have to do some tall hustling.

Comrade Play, the "mystery" contestant no longer a mystery, now holds second place with a score of 136. This is surely be considered a good average for the past ten days, when Play started on the job while for a few days he threatened Henrichson for first place, he is now in the position of himself being pushed to maintain second place.

With only six points to her credit five days ago, Anna Fox of the Douglas Park English Branch is now almost on the verge of passing the 100 mark.

Second place is by no means decided. Play and Anna Fox are close. By the time the contest closes, the Douglas Park English Branch is now almost on the verge of passing the 100 mark.

The North West Russian Branch, the West Side and Lake View Scandinavian Branches, and the First South Slavic Branches stand at the head of the list for Foreign Language Branches. Predictions as to the standing when the contest closes can only be made by watching the order has been changing nearly every day.

Chicago is wondering why news from Lake Erie has been so scarce. But then—that can be readily explained by the department of the army.

Make It a Real Investigation

John Fitzpatrick, acting on the authority of the Chicago Federation of Labor, appointed a committee of fifteen to investigate the conduct of State's Attorney Crowe's office, in its efforts to strike down in Chicago, involving the dress manufacturers and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

In a letter to Robert E. Crowe, John Fitzpatrick charged the state's attorney, with having assigned police attached to his office to strike duty. He charged Crowe with having his police acting the role of agents provocateur by mingling with the people in the strike district and fomenting disorder.

There are other charges contained in the letter that appeared yesterday in full in the DAILY WORKER, which call for the most thorough investigation.

The committee of fifteen appointed by John Fitzpatrick to make an investigation of the anti-labor conduct of the Chicago Federation of Labor, is now in Chicago, with a view to the workers of Chicago to make a thorough probe, not alone of Crowe's office, but of the offices of Mayor William E. Dever and Chief of Police Collins.

The members of the committee appointed by John Fitzpatrick are:

Anton Johansen, Carpenter's Union.
Ebers Fitchie, Mill and Lumber Workers' Union.
Oscar Nelson, Post Office Clerks' Union.
Agnes Norton, Woman's Labor Union League.
David McVey, Lathes Union.
Frank Buchanan, Iron Workers' Union.
John O'Connell, City Firemen's Union.
Victor Olander, Steam Union.
John Fitzgerald, Women's Label League.
Charles Sample, Molders' Union.
John Clay, Laundry's Union.
Harry Van Arden, Pressmen's Union.
Charles Glover, Blacksmiths' Union.
Harry Sheek, Union Label League.

At the first meeting this committee held on Thursday last in the office of the Chicago Federation of Labor, it was charged that the plain clothes thugs employed by Crowe are also on the payroll of the city administration.

We find State's Attorney Crowe, the republican, and Mayor Dever, the democrat, and alleged "friend of labor," both equally responsible for the actions of the police in assaulting strikers and protecting strikebreakers at the behest of the manufacturers.

The committee might ask Mayor Dever, why plain John Alcock, notorious man bruiser, transferred from the record department, where he was placed because of his unsavory reputation for manhandling prisoners, to the head of the force of policemen detailed by Chief Collins to guard the strikebreakers and beat up the strikers.

In order to retain the political friendship of certain labor leaders, Mayor Dever may promise the committee, that the present mis-handling of the strikers by his police officers will cease. But the committee should not be satisfied with empty promises.

If Mayor Dever wishes to have order in the strike district he can do what a genuine working-class mayor does, when a strike develops within his jurisdiction. Appoint a force of special officers, recruited from the Chicago labor unions. Such a committee would be interested in maintaining order. The police and the gunmen from Crowe's office are not.

The workers of Chicago are watching the committee of fifteen. They will expect an investigation that will go to the bottom of the situation, regardless whether those affected are democrats or republicans. The DAILY WORKER is firmly convinced that a real investigation will show that in this strike the officialdom of Cook County, in the City Hall as well as in Crowe's office is carrying out the orders of the dress manufacturers and the Chicago Chamber of Commerce.

The almost deadly silence maintained by the capitalist press of Chicago is also proof that every agency of capitalist power in the city is solidly lined up against the workers. The DAILY WORKER alone is throwing the searchlight on the strike and giving the garment workers the necessary backing and publicity.

The DAILY WORKER urges the committee of fifteen to make a real investigation!

The garment workers have heard a good deal during the last year about the disruptive tactics of the Communist Party. This strike has demonstrated that the Communists are always the staunch supporters of the workers, not confining their help to lip service, but getting down on the firing line with them.

A certain labor paper that stands for independent political action, had a pretty editorial on the front page prior to the last mayoral election, castigating Mayor Dever for not being a friend of labor. It said the strikers do not find the clubs of his police any too friendly.

Congress Next

In a country like ours where the plundering of the national resources and the looting of the national treasury by capitalists is the biggest industry, it is no surprise to find second-class crooks go unnoticed and remain unknown for some time.

This is the condition that prevails in the United States today. The Teapot Dome explosion happened to break out first and now the lesser thieves are un molested, reaping a harvest. But despite the fact that the Teapot scandal has dwarfed everything else, the corruption and graft with which our whole capitalist governmental system is reeking is breaking out in putrid scabs on our national body-politic.

The exposure of the debauchery in the Veterans' Bureau has brought to the forefront two Congressmen charged with having received bribes for their efforts to secure pardons for certain prisoners. We are told that Congressman Zihlman of Maryland, chairman of the House Committee on Labor and one of the worst labor-baiters in the game, and a gentleman from Kentucky, Congressman Langley, a stalwart reactionary, have taken for themselves a handsome sum for "services rendered."

This charge against the two representatives is interesting from one angle, to say the least. Only the modest sum of $200,000 is supposed to have been in the grant handed out here. What a difference! When cabinet officers and senators and presidents are engaged in the game of serving big business and grafting, the fees and their transactions run into the millions; but when mere congressmen get into the mess, their money turnover is limited to so paltry a sum as several hundred thousand dollars. And yet some would say we have no classes in this country.

One by every division of the government is being shown up in its true role—an agency in the hands of the bosses against the workers. The present get busy in the senate. The present get busy in the house. Now it is the poor, powerless congressmen. Truly, this last tidal wave of graft establishes at least one point that the workers and farmers ought to remember about the capitalist government running the United States: More and more it is becoming evident that the amount of money passed hands in the relations between the government and the capitalist business is directly proportional to the power the particular governmental subdivision involved has. The higher the official the bigger the price. Whatever may be said about this practice, it can not be denied that this is good business sense in the eyes of the moneyed men. And these are the men who run our government and industries today.

Strange Generosity

American marines are engaged in serious fighting in Honduras and it looks as if our military forces will suffer unexpected casualties in shooting Wall Street democracy into the helpless anti-Americans.

But there is one aspect to the bloody affair that would be ludicrous were it not for the most dismal misanthrope howl with laughter if it were not so tragically fundamental. Our military and the marines and the military operations of our capitalist government in Honduras would have the world believe that was the death of an American Negro at the hands of the native population that awakened in our government its great sense of duty to protect its citizens and brought about American intervention.

When do we kept editors and military publicists think they can fool now? Do they think that they can fool all the people all the time? One might very well answer these mental queries to our imperialists that they ought to know that change begins at home. If these uniformed and uninformed protectors of our lives are so anxious about the security and welfare of the Negroes why don't they take steps to guard the lives and improve the conditions of the colored masses in the United States where protection could be secured without any loss of life being suffered by the saviors and protectors?

The Government of ours is now violating the independence of Honduras on the pretense of avenging the loss of life suffered by a Negro in the Latin-American Republic in civil war. The number of these Negroes who have been executed by the American and other capitalist interests struggling for the control of the natural resources of the country. The number of these Negroes lynched in the United States, the number of these Negroes who have gone scot free, the intolerable conditions forced on the Negroes in the South and elsewhere, claimed by the high humanitarian motives now when do we kept editors and military publicists think they can fool now? Do they think that they can fool all the people all the time? One might very well answer these mental queries to our imperialists that they ought to know that change begins at home.
