'RECOGNIZE RUSSIA!' CRY GROWS

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHEY.

THE good impression created in the minds of the British fraternal delegates to the Russian Trade Union Congress is causing havoc in the ranks of rank-and-file workers. What makes the yellow leaders angrier than anything else reported by the trade union leaders is their statement on Georgia, not the trade union leaders, but the socialist leaders. The trade union leaders found the people of Georgia happy and smiling and blamed the socialists for the recent revolt of bandits and charlatans in that country.

A T a recent meeting of the Bureau of the Labor and Socialist International, M. Vandervelde, his Belgian master's former socialist minister, attacked the delegates sent by the general secretary of the International Trade Union Congress, Russia. He denounced them for publishing eulogistic articles on Soviet Russia in the Comintern press and for having given the Soviet government a blank bill of lading for its conduct in Georgia. He requested the bureau to discuss the conduct of the British delegates, but Johann of France and Tom Shaw of Ireland thought otherwise. There was no discussion.

THE diplomatic correspondence of the London Daily Herald writes that prior to the recent Paris conference on "reparations," it was rumored that Britain and the United States were coming to an agreement on markedly easy terms on payment of her debts to both countries. Churchill was the British mouthpiece, while Hughes spoke for the United States. The terms followed a ten year moratorium in which to pay the debts with a nominal interest payment during the period of 1 percent. The United States, for instance, France was to join England and the United States in an anti-Soviet bloc. Evidently the plan did not go thru but Hughes did.

ORD OLIVER, secretary for India in the Ramsey MacDonald government, in a socialist government, delivered a speech in Calcutta a few days ago, in which he stated that the labor movement is unite in its fight to Hindoo that it would not stand for any policy of terrors or intimidation on the part of Hindoo nationalists or revolutionary groups. He said that the British used the same kind of language employed by Lord Curzon, the tory. The subject peoples of Great Britain can expect no sympathy from the British labor party. Only when the British workers follow the leadership of the Communists will the slaves of the ruling classes be freed.

The workers must not wait for others to strike the blow.

MUSSOLINI is not even good to the Italian people. United News dispatch from Rome tells that a few days ago while the big black-shirt dictator was driving thru the zoological gardens, he saw a lion's cage. He stayed with it a minute, then went into the cage. His body did not touch him. This is the only true story that has appeared in the capitalist press, probably from Italy to boot. That is why they say much for the rest. Perhaps the Italian lions are fatidic and particular about their diet. Or perhaps they are vegetarians.

PLACE COMMISSIONER REX KNIGHT of New York is back from South America with a wonderful system for finger-trapping his workers. He learned the scheme in the Argentine. The commissioner gave it to the public at a banquet tendered him in the Waldorf Astoria. If ever he is successful in putting his system into operation, he will not touch him.

JENSEN'S SCAB PACT HOGTIES CARPENTERS

Prohibits Demand for Higher Wage Scale

Harry Jensen, president of the carpenters' district council, ruled out of order a resolution demanding a $1.50 an hour increase for the district to move for a new wage scale of $1.50 an hour and bring the carpenters' wages up to the level of other sections of the building trades.

The reason for Jensen's action is that the scab agreement entered into between himself and five Chicago contractors and made public the day before the elections, prohibits the carpenters from raising wages, while it holds down an increase in wages and puts them in the position of undermining the wages of the entire building trades.

Jensen signed the scab contract, he did it largely in order to gain popularity for himself and aid his election as president of the district. The contractors were willing to sacrifice the interests of the rank and file of the carpenters' organization to gain credit for the election. The scabbers knew that Jensen was able to go before the members and pose as a man who did the work of the carpenters, public until one day before the election the members were unable to read it and realize what it had committed them to.

Tied To Law Scale.

Under the terms of this agreement local carpenters point out, the five contractors who signed it are compelled to have and do their business with all other contractors in Chicago into the agreement if they see fit. If this is done, the carpenters' rank and file will be compelled to accept the same wage scale as the scabbers.

At the last meeting of the carpenters' council, Jensen was able to use the Jensen contract to present the union members under threat of expulsion from demanding more money.

The struggle against Jensen's tools in Local No. 181 is still on, with the members growing more and more militant and determined to break the scab agreement.

The members feel that the officials should not be allowed to continue the practice of the construction.

At the last meeting of the local, it was brought up on the floor, that Local 224 of the carpenters' union, which is the main city of the island of Hawaii, to the south east of here, as a result of a sugar plantation strike in which more than 1,000 workers are said to have participated, according to reports reaching Honolulu today.

SPY, IMPORTED BY SOCIALISTS, IS COMING HERE

Run Out of New York, Tries Luck on Tour

That Raphael Abramovich, Russian czarist, socialist and counter-revolutionary, who has been imported into the United States by the "socialists" behind the Jewish Daily Forward, considers the American socialist party beneath his notice, is shown by the statement of Bertha Hale White, secretary of the socialist party, that Abramovich has not consulted the national office of the socialist party.

SENATOR LADD FOR UNDERWOOD SHOALS SCHEME

North Dakota "Radical" Had Talk with Cal

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Progressives in the Senate, led by Senator Norris of Nebraska, lost their fight to prevent the jettisoning of the bill, which the Senate by a vote of 56 to 30, passed the Underwood bill providing for a leasing of Muscle Shoals to private companies.

Following a conference at the White House between President Coolidge and Senator Curtis, republican leaders led ten senators to withdraw in favor of the Norris proposal, which provided for government ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals, as well as the Underwood bill, assuring its passage. The only member of the progressive group who allied himself with Senator Norris called a coalition of Underwood and Shoals bill supporters can was Senator Ladd of the Democrats. Ladd voted for the Underwood bill.

Only One Disappointment.
"I was told to move my shanks and who they were," Senator Norris declared, after the vote had been taken on the Underwood bill. "I think the bill will be a disappointment to the people."

A bill differing with the Underwood bill in many respects but identical with it in the plan to turn over the government property to private corporations was passed by the house during the last session. It is believed that despite the opposition of the progressives in the house, the Underwood rates will be retained in the Senate, which take place in the senate, these differences will be ironed out before the adjournment of congress.

CAN MAKE NO NEW TWO AND A HALF INTERNATIONAL

Tranmael and Hoeglund
Lose Ledebour

(Special to the Daily Worker)
Attempts to organize a new "two and a half" international by all the renegades of Communist International have finally failed, according to the official organ of the Norwegian Communist Party.

The attempt was made by Hoeglund, Tranmael and Steinberg, leaders of this group, to organize a new party from Norway, these traitors are to conduct a referendum among themselves, on Feb. 15, to decide whether or not they shall start a new international or not.

Ledebour Has No Home.

In the preliminary conference held in Berlin during the Christmas period, Ledebour, who according to these traitors previously had been Tranmael, Hoeglund and company—was to be the leader of the new international, was, instead, thrown out of the conference to his disgrace, voting for Communists in Germany.

It was sufficiently enough to have him considered outside of the new anti-Communist international. Poor old Ledebour seems to have no place to go. That is where the "two and a half" international is for everyone connected with it. "Two and a half" internationalism has become about the sorriest thing in political life.

Yet there are subjective traits in many sections of the working class, sections which claim to be "Communist with reservations," and so on, that are to be found in the "two and a half" international as well as in the more dangerous elements which really organize or try to organize a "two and a half" international.

If You Don't Know—Find Out.

To point out the deviations from the Communist line, from the line of Bolshevikism. So next Sunday evening, in the lodges of the Asland Club, in the 10th Street, 10th Avenue, and Van Buren streets, Arno Swabek, district organizer of the Workers' (Communist) Party, will lecture upon the subject: "What is a Two and a Half International? Where Does it Lead the Workers?"

INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF TEXTILE BOSSSES AGAINST LABOR SHOWS NEED OF WORLD UNIONISM

By LELAND OLDS
(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

Child labor is the outstanding characteristic of cotton mills in the vicinity of Tsingtao, China. According to the Textile Recorder 60 per cent of the 16,500 operatives in the 8 large mills which have been built since 1922 are children. All but one of these mills are controlled by foreign capital.

In the departments spinning yarn of finer counts, the report says, nearly all the operatives are children. The workers generally put in 12 hours a day. Daily wages range from 12c to 18c according to the nature of the work. Thus cotton cleaners receive from 20c to 25c a day, sorters from 2c to 3c while the highest wage for a spinner is 45c.

Many of the leading cotton manufacturing concerns in China are owned in Japan. One of these operating 10 mills with about 10,000 operatives has issued a circular to the effect that the benevolent paternalism of their policy. High officials in their description of their benevolence have been developing near the mills in order that the employees may work the long hours without being away from home 14 hours a day. The average wage is 18c hours, about 2,500 families composed of 14,258 persons. That makes an average of 9.4 persons per house, including the workers for a 2-story apartment and 12 for a house.

Modern efficiency management has been installed including a personal and elaborate system of production, attendance, etc.

The company attempts to eliminate the lamination of children under 12 years of age, but the workers insist on the hiring of children who measure less than 4 feet 2 inches in height.

The majority of spinning mills in Japan operate 20 hours a day in two shifts and the weaving mills in a single shift of 10 to 11 hours. Prior to the earthquake the government had issued a circular to the effect that work for women in cotton mills but its effective date has been indefinitely postponed.

Cotton mill owners and operatives in New York have agreed upon a 10 per cent increase in wages bringing the level just now to 30c an hour with the increase in the cost of living since past war times. As to the increase the workers have agreed to a lengthening of the regular shift from 7 to 7 1/2 hours, to an increase in the overtime pay from $6 to 8 hours per week and to a reduction of the extra overtime pay from 30c per cent to 30c per cent.

As to the increase in wages, the workers have given up the right to claim half pay for a fortnight in case of unemployment since lack of orders.

The extent to which workers have given up behind the organization in perfecting world organization is indicated by a glance at the pages of the International Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers Association of America.

There is an International Federation of Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers associations with affiliates in England, France, Holland, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Spain, India, Japan, China, Egypt, etc.

"Our Empire"

The London Daily Herald carries an advertisement in a recent issue of a series of "brilliant and statesmanlike" articles from the pen of J. T. Thomas, colonial minister in the MacDonald government, to appear in "Answers," one of the string of publications founded by the late and unlamented imperialist Lord Northcliffe.

When the labor party was called upon by the king of England to form a government and Ram say MacDonald kissed the royal toe, yellow socialists all over the world boasted that the policy of class collaboration and letting the workers do their own dirty work of class domination and revolution was vindicated. The Communists pointed out that the assumption of power by the labor party did not mean the conquest of power on the part of the working class or their emancipation, but that the bourgeois were in a tight fit and needed the labor fakers to pull them out of a hole. That is what happened.

Ramsay MacDonald guided the destinies of the empire as carefully did his predecessor, Stanley Baldwin. He slaughtered Hindus and Egyptians, who thought they had a right to some liberty in their native land. He built battleships to the pirates, the pirate capitalists who own the British government. He threatened to use the armed forces in strikes, against the workers. What more could he do?

J. H. Thomas looked after His Majesty's colonies. He explained to the workers of Britain that the empire was their empire, that it was to their interests to put down "native" uprisings and exploit the colonial peoples. He performed his duty just as conscientiously as the comparatively unknown flunkie who preceded him. The labor party government brought no change in British foreign policy and the labor movement forced it to guarantee a home in Soviet Russia. Then the bourgeois decided that danger was around the corner and struck it out.

Today J. H. Thomas is writing for a bourgeois paper about "our empire." The Daily Herald, an alleged socialist paper, publishes the advertisement. In doing so the Daily Herald participates in the treachery of J. H. Thomas, who is selling for cash the confidence that the masses of British workers still repose in him. He is instilling into their minds the pernicious doctrine that Britain and all her colonies belong to the British workers, and that their co-partners with the bloated imperialists in the business of looting the victims of the pirate empire.

The British labor party has given proof of evidence of the futility of expecting a labor party government to represent the interests of the working class. Wherever they have been in office, they have acted as the willing servants of the ruling class. The Right Honorable J. H. Thomas is a horrible example of a native socialist serving his masters. But Victor Berger or Morris Hillquit would act no differently if Wall Street decided that the Coolidges and Davies were no longer able to keep the masses from revolting.

The Same Old Northcliffe

Perhaps some of our readers believe that Lord Northcliffe is dead. He isn't. He simply stopped editing the London Times and took a long vacation. Being a staunch imperialist, Northcliffe still watches over the empire from his invisible vacation land.

You can't keep some people from breaking into the news. Northcliffe is one of them. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and several other bourgeois gentlemen held a meeting in Queen's Hall, London, recently. The hall was half empty. It is no wonder. Who would not go to see a bunch of bourgeois nuts offer themselves as object lessons on the intellectual deterioration of capitalist society?

According to the author of Sherlock Holmes, Northcliffe does not like the Times' editorials. He says they are too long. Some critics find the same fault with the DAILY WORKER editorials. But we submit that ours are interesting. Northcliffe resented his being given credit for popularizing the "theory of Bolshevism" as a means of scaring the masses. The best way to keep the masses in tow, he told Conan Doyle, is to "tickle 'em."

We suggest that Conan Doyle get in touch with Lenin?

A man who never looked at the clock—press agent stuff—left a thriving business to six of his employees recently. He was in the cloak and suit business. The gift looks fishy. The benefactor's name is Almerindo Portofolio, and when he turned into Santa Claus his brother Pasquale became president and treasurer of the new firm. The question before the house is: What's the matter with the rest of Portofolio's employees? Where do they come in? The story is mental food for morons.

The Irresponsible Mahoney

There is a priest in St. Paul, Minnesota, by the name of William Mahoney. He is editor of a weekly labor paper which he maneuvered into being made the official organ of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, much to the chagrin of a rival faker in Minneapolis, who edits the Labor Review.

Mahoney is ambitious and has more schemes for getting his name into the capitalist papers than a conjurer has tricks. At one time Mahoney worked the "progressive" gag for breaking into print. As a phraseologically fiery radical, the capitalist papers got kick out of featuring this harmless middle-aged property owner. On the other hand Mahoney could prove in his weekly sheet that he was a pure communist and that he would not represent the capitalist apple cart.

There was a time when millions of American workers and poor farmers thought they wanted a labor party. Scores of American labor fakers and capitalist politicians thought they didn't, but did not say so openly. Their policy was one of watching and waiting and making Delphic promises.

The Communists took the lead in endeavoring to organize the growing political consciousness of the masses. This caused the labor fakers to sentence the Communists to political isolation.

The Communists advocated class political action for the workers and poor farmers as against a united front with the bourgeoisie as urged by the progressives and reactionaries. One of those who stood for a class farmer-labor party was Mahoney. But when LaFollette blew his bugle and the fakers followed him as the rats of Hamelin followed the Pied Piper (the unfortunately not into the ocean) Mahoney joined the procession.

At the Cleveland conference of the C. P. A. Mahoney was not allowed to sit with the respectable. He was unequal, because in a weak moment he invited the Communists to participate in the St. Paul Conference. But the bourgeois will make friends and since then he has made penance in sackcloth and ashes for his progressive sins.

Mahoney recently figured in the expulsion of two Communists from the St. Paul Central Labor Council. He aided the reactionaries. Again he breaks into the news. This time by reading the Communists to the door of the Minnesota farmer-labor federation.

In doing this, Mahoney will win back whatever credit he lost with the capitalist class during the days in which he sowed his radical wild oats. The political route has been well traveled. If Mahoney is still that he is but a native Communist by his action, even his addled brain will soon be convinced that he has hurt his fake farmer-labor party more than he hurt the Communists.

The workers and farmers of Minnesota have in the Workers (Communist) Party the only political party that fights for their interests. The farmer-labor federation is now in the hands of bankers, labor fakers and petty bourgeois professional politicians who will use it to further their own ambitions and as a club to shake graft out of the capitalists. Without the Communists the farmer-labor federation is like a body without a soul. It is a political corpse. Mahoney is welcome to the job of being its mouthpiece.

If anyone has a ragion that the employers want an open shop in order to be able to raise the pay of the workers, or even if anyone has the insane idea that a successful open shop campaign won't make any difference in the general wage rate, merely because he himself is not a member of organized labor, he should read the following editorial taken from the Minnesota Banker for the month of December, 1920.

If anyone says, as some labor fakers do sometimes say, that the "radicals" and "left wing" are "helping the bosses" by "disturbing things," you may read that chapter from the Minnesota Banker. So please the following in your hat.

"The open shop movement, now well under way all over the United States, is deemed by its proponents as the prime means of bringing about long labor costs and waste that are the chief cause of the economic force in the industry of the country as the Bethlehem Steel company openly announces its aid for this movement, even to the extent of refusing to sell its product to manufacturers not favoring the open shop movement. It is at once evident that most momentous the open shop movement is obtaining."

"There is no question as to the economic value of the open shop movement, at the present time. The push must be made, in their methods.

The open shop movement is a powder magazine. A carelessly thrown match might start a nation-wide conflagration. The closed shop is zealously fought to the death. The open shop movement, on the other hand, is the class of plausibly unimportant opera, along with a good many others. The opera is by James M. C. Dobson, and is advised to be a good one.

"Werther," which the Chicago Civic Opera gave in 1920, was a smash hit. Last Thursday night, the audience to class the class of plausibly unimportant opera, along with a good many others. The opera is by James M. C. Dobson, and is advised to be a good one.

"The opera is not so important as the musicals of either Masseuse operas. There is nothing at all here comparable to the "Meditation" in "Thais," or the ballet music in "The Nutcracker," or the music of "Alice in Wonderland." Alice, because her mother had made her prouder than ever, is dying.

"This is the kind of thing to do and it can be done in many ways. The open shop movement is a radical element in too strongly entrenched, there is, of course, but one final thing to do, and that is to beat them by force. They must be locked out and licked into line."

It is the opinion of the ligand that realizes that the rights of capital and the conservative organized labor. He must be won over to the soundness of the proposition.
