NEARS CLASH WITH GOVERNMENT TURK

(Special to The Daily Worker)
LONDON, June 26.—Pressing unemployment results from the Dawes Plan, and with the employers taking every advantage to attack the unions in a sweeping campaign for "open shop," the British unions face a crisis of the gravest character.
On Tuesday the joint inquiry into industrial conditions conducted by the representatives of the Miners' Federation and the coal mine owners, broke up when the operators stated that on June 30 they would give formal notice that on July 31 they would no longer conform with the existing agreement with the coal miners' union and would insist on an increase of hours and a decrease in wages.
Want to Break Seven Hour Law.
Since the miners' action hour day is written by the law of the land, the operators are confronted with the necessity of forcing the miners to accept a longer day than the law permits or the alternative of getting the law changed. And it is doubtful that the challenge labor so fearfully has to introduce a measure lengthening the miners' work day.
But the menace is real and to the (Continued on page 4)

AS WE SEE IT.
By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

THE revolt of the masses in the colonies of the imperialist powers is causing deep concern among the ruling classes of the world. Every capitalist government is between two fires: that of the most class conscious revolting slaves abroad and the demand for a war with Great Britain is growing stronger every day. China, her own working class never stand for it.

A northern revolt is threatened in India. The British forces are getting ready to unload the 500,000,000 of people in India and 500,000,000 of people in China. Quite a formidable army! With the Chinese masses moving and defying the rule of the imperialists, the Hindus should not be deterred from the job of freeing themselves from the rule of British. John Bull stands to be the biggest loser in the big game now being played in the Orient.

In northern Africa the Rifians are not holding their own. The French government was driven in desperation to arrest and execute Communists on charges of treason. In Morocco, what a crime! The Rifians, the last of the Rifians, the real leader of the present French government, was admitted to a critical period of the war. The Communists of France, the Rifian tribesmen in their war for the Rifian, even though they are fighting against France, Communists know no country but the welfare of the workers of all lands.

In England the Chinese workers are supporting the Chinese even though the Chinese are demanding war against Great Britain. But the Chinese are not demanding war against the British workers. They will fight the British imperialists and their agents. This alliance between the colonial slaves and the industrial workers in the heart of the imperialist powers is a very cheering phenomenon.

ONE of the most remarkable meetings held in this city a few evenings ago, when workers of all races and almost all colors gathered together to raise their voices against world imperialism, and—as the meeting was held in the United States—particularly against American imperialism. The Negro who showed by his beaming countenance that he appreciated the significance of the occasion. More than a score of young Chinese attended, and three of them took the platform and spoke, one of them speaking in his native tongue.

IT was a protest against imperialism in China, but not the usual kind of an academic protest. Representatives of the most oppressed victims of imperialism were there: Negro and Chinese workers and students. Many comrades who have attended thousands of rallies and meetings experienced rarely stirred their emotions when the voices of white, black and yellow workers were raised against the common enemy.

AS the meeting was in progress battles were raging in the Orient that will have a very important effect (Continued on page 4.)

BISHOP MONTGOMERY BROWN WILL SPEAK HERE TOMORROW EVENING

Prominent representatives of the National Labor Defense Conference will be the principal speakers at the protest demonstration which will be held tomorrow evening in Temple Hall, Van Buren street and Marshallfield avenues.
Among those listed to speak are: Bishop Montgomery Brown, Alexander Hovey, Benjamin Gitlow, William Z. Foster and a member of the Industrial Workers of the World.

CALL TEXTILE WORKERS OF EAST TO CONFERENCE OF MILITANTS
IN NEW YORK CITY, AUGUST 9

The textile workers of the mills in the east, especially those of New England, have suffered defeat after defeat, owing largely to their ineffective organization. The International Committee for Amalgamation in the Textile Industry is endeavoring to rally all militant workers for resistance against the wage cuts, speed-up systems and other evils, and has addressed the following call to the textile workers:

TO ALL TEXTILE UNIONS, AND ORGANIZED AND UNORGANIZED WORKERS IN THE TEXTILE MILLS:

The workers in the textile industry have for months been going through one of the worst crises in their history. In this crisis it can be plainly seen that the textile bosses have learned from the militant struggles of the workers against former wage reductions. The textile industry is replete with this history of mass struggles against the employers. The workers of Lowell, Lawrence, Fall River, Pawtucket, Valley, etc., are vivid in the memory of all who follow the history of American labor.

KRIM LAUNCHES ATTACK ON THE FRENCH LINES

Riflemen Take Towns in Extended Attack

(Special to The Daily Worker)
PARIS, June 26.—Alfred Krim and his riflemen today launched an attack against the whole French Moroccan front. The fight raged from the Atlantic Ocean south of Tangiers to the small ports on the Moudouy river thirty miles inland from Melilla on the Mediterranean. The French suffered heavy losses and were driven back, reports said.
Krim's objective was believed to be the great Fez-Tangier highway. In previous attacks the French have been able to defend this road and thus safeguard Fez, capital of Morocco.
Many villages were reported burned including at Elhail and Al-Mantout, south of Fez.

THEATER BLAST TAKES 50 LIVES IN KANSAS CITY

Walls Topple, Fire Traps Audience

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 26.—At least thirty-five to fifty persons were believed to be entombed in the smoking ruins of the Gillis burlesque theater here.
Until the ruins could search for bodies was impossible.
The theater, which John Hogan, fireman, killed when a brick fell crashed into a post, while enroute to the theater.
A score were known to be injured, most of them caught by the blast in the Sanderson's lunch room, located in the four-story theater building.
Between 100 and 150 persons were in the theater at the time. A motion picture "Flaming Passion" was being shown at the conclusion of one of the acts of the burlesque show.
Without warning the explosion shook the building, tearing off the roof, blowing out the north wall and sending plates and auditorium to a tangled mass of wreckage. Bricks were hurled half a block by the blast. Patrons in the body of the house had little chance to escape, as a swift rush of flames followed the blast.
One wall and the roof had gone in the explosion and the wreckage crashed into the body of the house.
Within a half hour, the south wall, also toppled and the west wall followed a short time later.
P. M. Taw, administrator of the Gillis estate, told international news service this morning that there were 20 men in the basement of the Sanderson restaurant under the theater and 10 more in the basement of the Newark shoe store next door when the explosion came and that he was sure none got out alive.

Chinese Minister Wants U. S. To Stop Gun
Secretary Kellogg is giving daily attention to the Chinese situation, conferring with a number of diplomats, including Dr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese minister. Sze is understood to want the United States to take some action which will help the Peking government out of some of the trouble that it is now in with other powers. It was reported in diplomatic circles that Sze had drafted a plan contemplating the leadership of the United States in solving the international problem in China, and had laid it before the state department.

Workers Talk to Merchants
SHANGHAI, China, June 26.—Evidently aimed at forcing the merchant element to reconsider their decision to open the shops and banks, mass attacks on tram cars and busses were reported at Shanghai today, costing, it was estimated, $60,000,000, was attempted to be broken by the shop keepers and bankers.

The crowd were charged with heavy clubs by police, white guard volunteers and sailors of foreign boats, who clanked the demonstration breaking into groups. They then, although apparently broke out in many places.
The strike of seamen and workers in Shanghai is a great one, and a Hong Kong dispatch says that the "Empress of Asia" is unable to leave that port, not being able to get a cab crew.

War Loans at Canton
HONG KONG, China, June 26.—According to reports from Canton, many Chinese troops are gathering in position in the Chinese city opposite Shanghai, the foreign settlement opened up on Chinese soldiers last Tuesday. There has been no firing yet, but the situation is tense.

backed up Capellan in all his actions against the interests of the rank and file.
The operators have violated their contracts with the miners in several sections of the anthracite region, but instead of fighting back, the district officials took the side of the operators against the miners. This was particularly true in the case of Capellan.

The Progressive Program
The miners in the union led by the progressive miners' committee have issued a program containing the following demands:
That all coal mined shall be on a tonnage basis with a $10 a day guarantee for each miner for a six-hour day. A flat increase of $2.00 per day for all inside and outside day labor. Boys to work for the same kind of work and overtime when allowed to be paid for at the rate of one time and a half and double time for Sundays and holidays.

A minimum wage of $10.00 per day is demanded for men working at the face and $7.50 for day labor.
The six-hour day and the five-day week is demanded. The industry must furnish a living wage to all coal miners.

For Grievance Committees.
The program of the progressive miners favors the retention of the general grievance committees and the abolition of the conciliation boards which have always favored the operators.

One Yearly anti-trust organization simultaneously in both the bituminous and anthracite fields are favored against time agreements. Unemployment benefits for unemployed miners, same to be paid from the profits of the industry by the employers, and disbursed by the union, are demanded. The industry is supported as a temporary expedient for building up the union.

The progressive miners also demand the removal of all members expelled from the union because of their political views, the reinstatement of the 1,700 members of local 699 and their leader Edmunds, the one hundred per cent organization of the coal fields, against dual unionism, for the direct election of organizers.

Condemned John L. Lewis
The progressive miners also demand the condemnation of John L. Lewis, international president, for his failure to comply with the terms of the constitution and publish the tabulated vote of each local in the last election. It demands an alliance with the transport workers and calls for the support of the United Mine Workers of America for the transportation of coal into industrial plants.

International trade union unity is urged and the movement for class collaboration is condemned. The progressive miners go definitely on record against the postponing of the international convention until 1927.

Besides the industrial demands the program of the progressive miners carries the following political demands: for a labor party; nationalization of the mines; recognition of Soviet Russia; the release of all political prisoners; for the child labor amendment; against the criminal syndicalism laws; against imperialism and the peace plan; and against the Citizens' Military Training Camps.

Due to the unsettled condition of the union in the anthracite fields the meeting was expected to put forth all its strength in getting representation at the convention.

Capitalist Dictatorship in Chile Blessed By Wall Street with $20,000,000

By J. LOUIS ENQDAHL

TODAY, the first Anti-Imperialist Week, that will become an annual event, is inaugurated as the Wall Street bankers, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., float a new bond issue to fasten its financial chains upon South America—$20,000,000 to the Mortgage Bank of Chile.

The Chilean bank is a government affair, organized to exploit the natural resources of the country. Its board of directors is selected by both the nation's legislative chambers, and the chairman of the board and four officers are appointed by the president of the republic. Wall Street's international bankers, therefore, in disposing of $20,000,000 worth of bonds for the Mortgage Bank express great faith in the stability of capitalist rule in Chile.

With the blood of hundreds of workers in its nitrate fields upon its hands, the Chilean ruling class stands accessible to the American financial interests. The massacre of the nitrate workers in the province of Tarapaca, on June 6-7, this month, by machine gunners sent ashore from a Chilean warship, much after the fashion of the murderous attacks on Chinese workers at Shanghai and Canton, not only with the consent but with the encouragement of the American profit-taking interests, should furnish much excellent food for thought for all American workers and poor farmers during this week's attack against U. S. imperialism. The $20,000,000 bond issue floated by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. is the best stamp of approval that Wall Street could put on the Chilean government's slaughter of its own people. The official "O. K." of American capitalism is put on Chilean capitalism.

The rulers of Chile even boast of their infamy. In the advertisements now appearing in all the great press dailies, urging subscriptions for the $20,000,000 bond issue, the boast is made that, "the nitrate deposits are the only large natural deposits so far discovered in the world," and again, "the government owns large and valuable tracts of nitrate lands." Thus the government confesses itself the direct oppressor of the workers, without the intermediary of the private capitalist, and the American Powder Trust, the Du Pont Powder Company, of Delaware, is heavily interested in the exploitation of the Chilean nitrate fields.

The Chilean capitalist dictatorship basks in the sunshine of Wall Street's favor for its murder of workers and increases that favor as it pledges itself to continue the exploitation of the living in order to meet the high rates of interest demanded and pay back the loan by June 30, 1927.

"The copper industry has been extensively developed, largely by American capital," is another proud boast of the Chilean ruling class. Investigation discloses that the American copper capital that is "developing" Chile is furnished by the "open shop" Guggenheim interests, notorious for their oppression of American workers in the copper fields of the West.

Thus Anti-Imperialist Week, 1925, finds this strong bond of fraternity developing between the workers of the United States and Chile, both the victims of American greed finance and big industry.

These connecting threads, linking the workers of all countries, steadily grow in strength as labor everywhere becomes more conscious of its world-wide identity of interests.

This year's Anti-Imperialist Week will help broaden the vision of the whole American working class. It will wipe out some of its provincialism. It will develop its internationalism. Future Anti-Imperialist Weeks will see the American working class go into action, definite action in common with workers of other nations, not only against American capitalism, but against the whole capitalist system, in every nation where it still exists. Thus the revolution grows.

PENNSY MAKES DEAL WITH ITS TELEGRAPHERS

Heads I Win, Tails You Lose System

According to the announcement of Vice-President T. B. Hamilton of the seamy Pennsylvania railroad, the company officials have concluded an agreement as to wages with the system's telegraphers "under the employ representation plan"—which is the language for the company union.

Mr. Hamilton was too modest to say how well the company succeeded in its effort to get the telegraphers, but his general announcement that "wage revisions were largely the result of efforts of the joint fact-finding committee" should not lead to doubt about which way the "revisions" affected the wages.

Mr. Hamilton says it was "left to the majority vote of each division as to whether the telegraphers should work six or seven days in the week. What penalty is to be meted out to those who want the six day week is unknown."

NEW YORK, June 26.—Directors of the Chrysler Motor company declared today that they have chosen the preferred stock of the company today, payable to holders of record July 10, and applying to the first and second quarters of the year.

WORKERS' SCHOOL OPENS CLASS TRAIN SPEAKER

Will Prepare for N. C. Communist Campaign

NEW YORK, June 26.—The Workers' School will give a course in speaking on Saturday afternoon at the school headquarters, 189 14th street. The course will be led by William Westons and held its first session Saturday 11 p. m.

This is not a general public course, but has a very definite aim—namely, to prepare students for active participation in the campaign of the Communist Party in New York City.

Carry Message to Masses
The campaign affords the public district two splendid opportunities to carry the message of Communism to thousands of workers. In New York City street meetings are an established institution, and offer a very excellent means of spreading propaganda.

How effective this can be, has been demonstrated by the number of meetings, and this depends upon the number of speakers we have. The Workers' School, realizing great need of our party for speakers, has arranged for a public speaking, which will be in close co-operation with the party organization.

The course is intended, first, for comrades who would, to begin a general understanding of Communist principles, a voice with some party organization, and to begin to speak in English language. It will deal with such problems as, how to use a voice, how to make the point, to control the crowd, to organize a rally, how to build and lead a speech, how to make literature and answer questions, etc.

Comrades are urged to register immediately at the office of the school or through educational district speakers. This is not for beginners but will prove especially valuable to those who have already attempted to speak at open air meetings but without direction to increase their effectiveness.

All such comrades should contact their Communist district to send them to the course. We need a large and strong corps of speakers for our election campaign.

Rally to the party! Prepare the election campaign! Increase the public speaking course!

Mobilize for Defense

The Labor Defense conference meets in Chicago Sunday, June 26, to enlarge the scope of its activities and take the first steps in building a mass organization in the United States for the relief of class war prisoners and their families.

The constitutional guarantees of free speech, free press and free assembly have been wiped out by the decision of the supreme court in the Gitlow case. Criminal syndicalism laws of the most vicious nature are on the statute books of most of the states and even during the comparatively quiescent period in the American class struggle, indictments, prosecutions and convictions of militant workers under these laws have continued.

There is also the growing use of the injunction by the capitalists and its extension to prohibit practically every form of mass protest whether it be of a clearly political nature or merely an attempt by the workers to remedy bad working conditions.

The class struggle has reached an acute stage. In Europe capitalism clings to its privileges only by the open and broadest use of its police powers. In Germany, Finland, Estonia, Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, Italy and Spain, the jails are filled with the best fighters from the ranks of the working class. Thousands have been killed in open struggles with the mercenaries of the ruling class or murdered secretly and in cold blood.

In France the Poincare government is warring on the revolutionary workers. In England the restriction of the liberties of the masses is shown by police raids on Communists, the granting of exceptional powers to the secret service and the encouragement of fascist activities by the authorities.

In India British imperialism fills its dungeons with partisans of the independence movement. In China all imperialist nations are warring on the Chinese workers, peasants and students.

In the Philippines we read of the slaughter of native workers by the soldiers of American imperialism. In Hawaii, Crouch and Trumbull, private soldiers, have been jailed for having political opinions contrary to those of the American imperialism.

In Cuba, Haiti American imperialism rules by bribes and bayonets. In Mexico, Wall Street smashes unions, shoots and jails workers with the aid of its puppet government. In Chile and Bolivia the working class is forced to enter an armed struggle for its very existence against the tyranny of governments in the pay of American imperialism.

Surely as day follows night the workers in America will find themselves faced with a sharpening of the class struggle. The American ruling class will outdo all other exploiting groups in brutality when it begins to assault the working class systematically. Sporadic and isolated cases with which we are all familiar have shown that the American government has nothing to learn from, but can teach the rest of the rulers the most effective methods of suppressing the masses.

The defense of the workers who are jailed, the support of their families and the families of those who are killed by the murder hands of American capitalism is a sacred duty the working class owes itself.

To centralize such work, to build an organization broad enough, active enough and disciplined enough to see to it that no working class fighter or his dependents, no matter to what section of the working class he belongs, suffers needlessly because of lack of funds for defense and food, is the task of the Labor Defense Council conference.

Bring Battleships and Businessmen Home

The association of American citizens in China has sent a cable to the state department urging energetic action in conjunction with the other powers against the liberation movement.

The full text of the cable is published elsewhere in this issue but far more interesting than the cable itself would be the names of the businessmen and the financial and industrial concerns they represent, dominating this organization.

It would probably be the choicest collection of servants of big capital compiled recently and its publication would give the American workers a good idea as to who it is clamoring for a policy of blood and iron in China.

Incidentally it may be remarked that the news of today shows that the imperialist powers are conducting their activities in China in the accepted American style—by circulation of the wildest rumors of plots, bombs and coming massacres. In this noble work the marines have been enlisted. The Chinese celebration of Dragon Day, the marines were selected by the agents of imperialism to scare the foreign residents to death and one enthusiastic correspondent compares the marines to Paul Revere because they rushed from house to house in the foreign quarter distributing mimeographed copies of a call to arms.

But the festival passed without any casualties except the daily quota of Chinese workers and students shot by foreign troops.

Meanwhile, millions of dollars are being raised for support of the strike, through China and the Chinese government is sticking by its thirteen demands which we published yesterday in full.

The modest character of these demands is in itself proof that the imperialist powers have stripped the Chinese liberties which in this country are called "natural rights."

Of little comfort to the imperialists is the short dispatch telling of the refusal of Sikh troops under British officers to fire on the Chinese. The Sikhs are Mohammedans, the picked soldiers of British imperialism, and when they are affected by the rise of the Chinese liberation movement it symbolizes the spread of revolt against imperialism throughout Asia.

The request from American businessmen in China for military action against the Chinese masses is therefore equivalent to a demand for war on the Asiatic peoples.

The workers of America need to exercise the utmost vigilance to scrutinize the moves of the state department as never before.

The only way to stop war is to stop it before it begins.

Demand the immediate and unconditional withdrawal of all American forces from China.

We have said this before and we repeat it now:
If the businessmen who have been robbing the Chinese workers and aiding in the murder of the Chinese strikers and students, do not want to come home on the battleships let them shift for themselves in China or swim home.

PLEDGE FIGHT ON MACHINE OF INTERNATIONAL

Shop Chairmen Show Faith in Members

The most of the membership on the job. The resolution was adopted unanimously. It reads as follows:

Shop Chairmen's Resolution.
"We, the chairmen of the cloak and dress shops of New York, gathered Tuesday evening, June 23, at Manhattan Lyceum, at the call of the Joint Committee of Local 2 and 22, adopt the following resolution:

"Considering that the struggle which the three locals are carrying on against the machine of the Joint Board of the International is a struggle for the interests of the workers and for a union level with the rest of the workers' movement, and that the machine leaders are using all base means to maintain their power and, thus to deceive public opinion into believing that the membership are in the wrong;

"Whereas, they are using terrorism in order to get from the members statements which they are using to show that the membership are with them;

"Whereas, they are using provocation to cause the members to believe that this is a struggle against Communism in the unions;

"Whereas, the machine is beginning to use all base means to keep the workers who refuse to carry out its orders because they do not represent anyone, and

"Whereas, they have not even the courage to call the membership to union meetings, but carry on their work by secret means, as in the case of the secret strike, which they called by special letters in Beethoven hall to chosen members, not to the entire membership;

"Be it resolved, that the shop chairmen of the cloak and dress shops adopt the following resolution: Condemn the machine of the Joint Board of the International as a machine which is severely condemning the provocative behavior of the machine clique; we declare that if they had the least belief that the workers are with them, they would not be afraid to call us to meetings; we declare also publicly that the only ones who we have confidence, are the leaders of the three suspended locals.

"We further state that this struggle is not a struggle of Communists, as they say, but this is a struggle of the members against a group of parasites who assume the right to raise the issue of Communistism, call strikes themselves and settle them on their own terms, and in other ways to do whatever they wish—and from whom we have long struggled to rid ourselves.

"We declare further, as the chairmen of the shops, that the workers who are carrying on the struggle against the machine, but that this struggle belongs to all of us, and we will carry it on until the end.

"We declare ourselves to be with all our strength and also financially the three locals to carry on the struggle in whatever way the Joint Action Committee of the three locals will decide upon.

"Down with the corrupt leadership. Long live the cloak and dress makers' union led by the workers."

"We declare further that not only do we agree with the three locals who are carrying on the struggle against the machine, but that this struggle belongs to all of us, and we will carry it on until the end.

"We declare ourselves to be with all our strength and also financially the three locals to carry on the struggle in whatever way the Joint Action Committee of the three locals will decide upon.

AMERICANS ORGANIZE FARM COMMUNE 'HERALD' IN THE SOVIET UNION

WASHINGTON, June 26.—One hundred Jewish immigrants from the United States have organized an "Herald" near Moscow, according to a Russian information bureau. The colonists will leave from New York City, with a few from New England, and some from Chicago and middle-western points. They have a grant of 1,000 acres.

British Labor Facing Crisis; Nears Clash with the Employers

miners, and the federation executive, headed by A. J. Cook, the left wing secretary, has called a national conference for July 2nd, at which a union will debate the situation and adopt a plan of action. There has been an increase in the number of unemployed miners of 67,100 since November.

Railway Workers Also Attacked.
Not only the miners are being attacked by the employers, who want to increase hours and decrease wages 10 per cent. A conference of the companies and the miners is now going on, being convened yesterday. So far nothing has come out for publication.

View of the seriousness of the unemployment situation, threatening as it does to aid the employers in an attempt to destroy the British union movement, the Trades Union Congress has been called into special session for July 14th to discuss unemployment.

The labor party has also called a national conference against the Baldwin government for failing to remedy unemployment. The motion will probably be debated next Monday.

Dawes Plan Ruins British Mines.
The coal industry is reported to be in deep depression, and certain districts, such as Wales and North Wales, depend mainly on export, were hit by the Dawes plan and the Ruhr invasion.

Great Britain is receiving reparations coal from Germany and can send it on to Italy and still undersell Great Britain. The Lens mines have been closed, and this increases competition, combined with the increased use of oil, lignite and other fuels, have hit the British mining industry to the hilt, especially the South Wales pits.

Union Delegation Visits Baldwin.
A delegation from the British Trades Union Congress, headed by A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, called upon Premier Baldwin Tuesday at 10 Downing street.

The delegation discussed the unemployment situation with Baldwin for two hours, and demanded that, as a partial remedy, Great Britain promote instead of obstruct trade with Soviet Russia. The miners' delegates demanded nationalization of the mines.

An official statement issued following the conference, stated on behalf of Premier Baldwin, that the government would not consider nationalization of the mines—since it would increase the cost of production. As for Russia, Baldwin said that Russia has never taken more than a small percentage of British trade, but that the government would "welcome the return of Russia to the community of nations."

"Last Resort" Says Premier.
Pressed in the house of commons as to the attitude of the government toward the war between the employers and the workers in the mining and railway industries, Premier Baldwin said:

"It is essential, in my opinion, that every opportunity be given to those engaged in an industry to settle these matters for themselves if they wish, and the government should only intervene in the last resort. This point, I am glad to say, has not yet been reached; it may not be reached; it would be premature for me to make a statement on the subject."

Army Aviator Killed.
MINNEAPOLIS, June 25.—Sergeant Douglas F. Logan, a chief engineer of Biaboe, Ariz., was killed almost instantly today and three other aviators were injured when a Martin bomber plane crashed to earth at Mitchell field.

Both propellers were shattered. A fire broke out when the plane was plunged into Logan's chest.

Aldermen to Europe.
The city council has voted to send a commission abroad to "study European traction methods" and will also send a delegation to the League of Nations to appropriate the necessary funds. Harbors and other municipal projects will be studied.

MILITARYS IN CONTROL OF THE GREEK STATE

General Pangalos to Be Premier or War Head

LONDON, June 25.—The Greek revolution was not peaceful and the resignation of the Michaelakopoulos government was forced only after the fleet had opened fire on the palace according to a Central News dispatch quoting the Belgrade newspaper Pravda. M. Papandreu, former premier, is striving to form a cabinet, the Belgrade paper adds, despite reports to the contrary.

The revolution was not entirely bloodless as indicated in dispatches to the Evening News, whose Athens correspondent reported that two were killed and twenty wounded. M. Papandreu's decision was announced after a meeting of the presidency.

There was a strong possibility, it was said, that General Pangalos, who led the military movement that overthrew the government, will accept the presidency. Pangalos was formerly generalissimo of the Greek army and at one time held the office of minister of war.

That whatever government finally emerges it is believed certain that Gen. Pangalos will be minister for war with Admiral Hadjirhokos at the head of the navy department.

100 TEACHERS TO BE GRIELED BY SUPT. McANDREW

The latest move in Superintendent McAndrew's petty war on Chicago school teachers is his picking on 100 teachers who have been marked efficient by his principals. Their principal, McAndrew, has threatened by the statement of one of the principals who, when pressed to explain the low rating he gave to a teacher, was forced to admit that he never had visited her class nor served her work.

This method of calling teachers to task is considered as a method by principals before the superintendent and his assistants for a grilling is the first in the history of the school system of Chicago. The teachers are eagerly waiting to hear just what kind of an inquisition will be conducted.

Liberal Control of Nova Scotia Whipped Badly in Election

HALIFAX, N. S. June 26.—A conservative government with an overwhelming majority in the provincial legislature today prepared to take over the position of power in Nova Scotia after forty-three years of liberalism.

Returns from the election yesterday said that the conservatives were elected out of the total of forty-three seats in the house.

Provincial Premier E. H. Armstrong and all his ministers went down in defeat.

system in the cotton, wool and silk divisions of the industry is displacing labor at such a rate that the wages of the unemployed are being tremendously increased, but the wages of the weaver—in spite of the golden promises that the mills have made—are on the average decreasing. Today the weaver to tend all his looms needs roller skates, and the operation of this method of relatively small and frequent wage cuts combined with the tremendous increase in production per man will eventually result in a loss in wages in many cases as high as fifty per cent.
